

Pro Data Research is a company that prides itself on its strong requirements for legal and ethical behavior by its contractors.

Therefore, upon learning of Mr. William Bush's arrest for activities that, if true, breached those requirements, Pro Data Research immediately terminated our affiliation with Mr. Bush.

At no time do we condone such behavior of our independent contractors and anytime we learn of any behavior that does not support our ethical, legal, or moral practices, all affiliations with said independent contractors are immediately dissolved.

We take allegations of such behavior very seriously.